NEW RICHMOND'S TRAGEDY.

The Fiend Had Been Adjudged In Folietly (O.) Towes.

Hon John Durbin Hill of Fort Scott, Kansas, has favored The Times with a copy of a current edition of The Daily Capital of Topeks, Kansas, which contains an account of New Richmond'e last horrible tragedy, about as its details appeared in these columns following the awful and growsome occurrence. It fully appears that Anderson was at least well enough known in Kansas to cause him to be committed to an asylum for the linsan from which he appears to have heen deliberately turned losse. Here is what The Capital says with reference to the history of that Capital says with reference to the history of that Capital says with reference to the history of that Capital says with the capital says and the same of money and it is supposed that he believed Fridman was the man who had done so. Anderson was a paper hanger by trade. That he was suffering from a return of the disease of lusanity there is no doubt. He was adjudged insane by Probate Judge N. C. Groom at Newton in November, 1899, and was taken to the State Insane Asylum December 1st, 1898, and was taken to the State Insane Asylum December 1st, 1898, and was taken to the State Insane Asylum December 1st, 1898, insanity there is no doubt. He was aljudged insane by Probate Judge N. C. Groom at Newton in November, 1892, and was taken to the State Insane Asylum December 1st, 1892, but remained less than a year, escaping from the institution at Osawatomie November Sth. 1898. He was discharged from the asylum May 10th, 1994, but the record says, Discharged, not in his right mind. He viatted Newton just after his discharge and was there for several weeks. He left for the East last summer and had out been heard of until the news of the guarder and lynching was recolved."

Uncle Sam's Shortage.

The deficit in the National Tream or the present fiscal year—from July 1s o date—is $11,209,277-24.

SOMETHING of a sensation was create in Washington by the withdrawal of $4,550,000 in gold at New York Saturday for shipment to Enrope. No need for a "sensation" over a little thing like that; it is simply the result of the present Democratic Free-trade policy, and just what the Republicans assured the Ameri-can people would happen as soon as the eratic program was put into effect.

Tur silliness of the Free-trade fac THE SIllines of the Fre-trade fad ought to be apparent to even the most obsises, after witnessing its practical operations. Afready it has resulted in two bond issues and a gaping wound in the Treasury surplus. In fact, the surplus has vanished, and in its piace we have an appalling defect. The amount of the exportations of gold during the last interest and the improvemental. Since rentymonths is unprecedented. Since muary 1st of last year the gold in and builion exported from the United States aggregate about $169,284,-300, while the importations during the same period amount to only $48,813,500, high leaves the excess of exports over purely been $150,470,500. What a suffful record the Democratic Freedef flustwisers are making to be ours!

Lower a brown like-book near the free flust this disk.

"The greatest thing for a country," exclaime Colonel INGERSOLL, "is for all of its citizens to have a home;" and in this respect our own country is to be regarded as the great-est in the world. Our people have what may be called the fireside instinct in a larger degree than those of any other Nation. They are pre-eminently home-makers, and the proportion of them who own homes is in excess of that known eisewhere. The history of the country from the first is the story of a constant struggle for the ownership of land and the unitiplication ownersmp at man and the miniprication of family hearthstones. This purpose has been the controlling one in the work of subduing the wilderness and extending the sway of civilization between the Atlantic and the Pacific. The log cabins of the earliest settlers represent the interest of the same of the control of the carliers settlers represent the control of the carliers settlers represent the control of the carliers settlers represent the control of the carliers and the carliers are the control of the carliers settlers represent the carliers and the carliers are the carliers are the carliers and the carliers are the carliers ar log cabins or the earniest centred the inspiration which was tq in-serted the inspiration which was tq in-sure the development of our unprece-dented resources and the winning of a surpassing order of prosperity. Wherever American conrage, ludnstry and fortitude have been manifesied, there have homes been established, and the domestic virtues nourished and encour-aged. It is true, as Colonel INGERSOLL says, that patriotism of the best sort is always found where such conditions ex-ist. Those who are part proprietors of a country are sure to love it, and to has-ten to its defense in a time of peril, as has been so grandly ilinstrated in our own case.

There is no other one thing to which we are more indebted for our National welfare and progress than the Homestead Laws. That great measure of practical bemedicence gave more homes to home-less people than ail the rest of the influences at work in that direction during fluences at work in that direction during all the preceding history of the conn-try. It provided an epportunity for which tens of thousands were longing; it helped the poor and hard-working by enabling them to help themselves. We are too apt to forget that in the absence of this incentive and assistance the set-tiement of the new West would have been indefinitely postponed. it was the Republican Homestead Law above every-thing else that caused immigration to go beyond the Mississippi and the Missor ri, beyond the Mississippi and the Missor II, and to dil the waste places with produc-tireness and all the means of comfort and enjoyment. The Government was an immense gainer by the policy which thus increased the sources of its pros-perity and strengthened the devotion of the people to its principles and institu-tions. A vast addition was made to the homes of the sountry in a comparatively short time, and with the homes came churches, schools, newspapers, railroads and all the other advantages that have contributed so much to our aggregate happiness and greatness. The historians of the future will not fail to dwell upon the importance of this movement and to praise the wisdom which made it possible. possible. The creat reduction in the price of sterline silver ware brings it within the steam of those who hereforder have been tild seed to use plated articles. We can show a large stuck comprising the latest and best ideas of the most prominent manufacturers.

Much surprise was created at Frank; fort when Special Chancellor Major opened proceedings in the Kentucky Mid-land case. He was removed by a pies to jurisdiction presented by Attorney Idelen of the Home Construction Company. It was said that the election of the Special Chancellor was Irregular, and the case will go to the Circuit Court for another election of a special Judge. The Midland property has already attracted a great deal of attention, and it looks as though a final settlement of the trouble is a good ways off.
